WHY DANIELLE'S PUTT OUT

Top golfer Danielle Masters has been left 'gutted' after organisers of the Ladies English Open pulled the event out of Biddenden's Chart Hills. FULL STORY - SEE PAGE 5

BY ED HILL

MOTORISTS are being warned to not let their bank cards leave their sight after the latest spate of card-cloning incidents.

And it is feared the scam is once again being linked to petrol stations in and around the area.

Police say they have received reports of cards being cloned at stations in Ashford, Romney Marsh and the Palmarsh area, near Hythe.

The first most victims know they have been targeted is when they notice large sums taken from their bank accounts - or are alerted by vigilant anti-fraud teams at the major banks, on the look-out for unusual transactions.

Six separate incidents were recorded in the area last week alone and police say that figure is on the rise.

Card cloning has become a nationwide problem with dishonest staff swiping cards and storing the information contained on them for fraudulent purposes.

Most frequently, fraudsters fit 'skimming' devices to chip-and-pin machines. Although the new hi-tech chips cannot be cloned, the details taken from the copied cards can be used abroad in countries which have not adopted the new system designed to make using cards even safer.

Rosemary Alexander, from Ashford police, said: "At the moment we can't be specific about exactly where it is happening. However, an enormous amount of reports are being generated in South East Kent.

"We don't know exactly what particular method is being used, probably a combination of all of them. It is vital you don't leave cards out of your sight."

If you are a victim of card cloning it is recommended that you contact your bank in the first place who will then report it to the police.

Firms paying a packet for postal strike

■ BY ED HILL

SMALL companies have been counting the cost of the two 48-hour postal strikes – with business chiefs warning they are losing out to the tune of millions of pounds.

The industrial action saw mail grind to a halt after the first strike took place last Thursday and Friday, and was then swiftly followed by another on Monday and Tuesday.

Chris Capron, chairman of the Kent Invicta Chamber of Commerce, which represents Ashford businesses, said: "It hits small businesses the hardest because of the cash-flow problems that it creates.

"We estimate it costs small business £2.5m for every two-day strike."

And Mr Capron says he has written to Royal Mail chiefs demanding the dispute is resolved to avoid no repeat.

He told Yourashford: "The Royal Mail is shooting itself in the foot. I have written to the chief executive Adam Crozier saying that he must get round the table with the unions to bring the strike to a close.

"There may be a two-day strike, but following that there is a five-day catch-up period."

Mr Capron blamed all sides of the dispute for the current situation.

He said: "I don't see an easy way out to this. The workers union is being obstinate and the management's refusal to negotiate has been a huge stumbling block.

"The trouble is we have no alternative – all we can do is wait until the strike ends. This action just makes Royal Mail more vulnerable to its competitors. But for the last week it has been pointless posting anything."

Chris Gray marketing manager of the Orbital Group based on the Orbital Park, says his company has already starting feeling the pinch.

He said: "Our work here mainly involves brochure distribution to

NO DELIVERY: Businesses say postal strike is costing them millions of pounds places like travel agents.

"The main problem is our clients want to bring work forward to try and beat the strike, but this has been difficult because it creates a strain on our resources.

"It badly affects our clients who are trying to generate business through their catalogues or through direct mailing campaigns.

"It affects the whole of the business flow. It creates a backlog of work throughout the system.

"For example, a company may have organised an advertising campaign to be launched in time with a brochure coming out. It can be very costly to cancel these things."

Woman spared jail after £39,000 benefit fraud

A 52-YEAR-OLD woman has narrowly escaped a jail sentence for benefit fraud.

Patricia Cowie of Wooten Road claimed nearly £39,000 of benefits to which she was not entitled.

Despite working at B&Q in 2000 she claimed Income Support and housing and council tax benefit.

She was found guilty of 33 counts of fraud at Maidstone Crown Court. If she offends within the next 18 months she will serve 12 months in custody.

Efficient system sees HIPs sent out on time

ONE hundred per cent of requests to Ashford council for the new Home Information Packs are being completed within just eight days – 48-hours quicker than the national average.

Since September 10, all homes with three or more bedrooms need a HIP, which contains information about the property, before they can be sold.

There were fears the provision of the packs would prove difficult to fulfill and cause backlogs in the system.

Garage wrecked in early morning blaze

A FIRE has wrecked a commercial garage on the A259 near Brookland.

The blaze broke out at around 3am on Monday with fire crews from Ashford, Lydd and New Romney attending.

A car in the workshop was destroyed and there was extensive damage to the workshop and surrounding buildings. There was also damage to an overhead power cable.

Fire investigation officers believe an electrical fault started the blaze.

Youngsters get tour of corridors of power

MEMBERS of the Ashford Youth Forum will be visiting parliament today to get a glimpse of how democracy works at the top level of government.

The children will be taking part in a conference arranged by the Ministry of Justice called Your Voice Counts.

The trip is part of a series of events throughout October which are designed to engage youngsters with democracy.

WWII dog-tag hits headlines across the pond

Search now on for Sgt Queen, 94

■ BY ED HILL

A WARTIME military medal and dog-tag, unearthed in a field near Great Chart has sparked a remarkable cross-Atlantic coincidence.

Retired intelligence officer Brian Parritt recently discovered the items on land surrounding his 17th century house in Chilmington Green.

He discovered they once belonged to a Sergeant Harry V Queen from the US Air Force – positioned at the house during World War Two.

Incredibly, the soldier's home town was Watertown in Massachusetts – a settlement a mere stone's throw from where Mr Parritt's daughter, Julie, now lives... more than 3,200 miles away.

And the coincidence has made headline news in the local Watertown newspaper.

Mr Parritt said: "I couldn't believe it when I saw the name Watertown on the badge. My daughter Julie lives near there.

"I remembered the name because during a visit to see her we stopped there for an ice cream.

"The amazing thing is my 11-year-old grandson Henry Booth is keen on the history of Anglo-American relations during the war.

"I have sent the dog tag and rifle marksman medal to him. He is hoping to be able to reunite them with the Queen family or even Harry if he is still alive."

If Sgt Queen is still alive, he will be 94.

Mr Parritt, based at the town's Templar Barracks during the war, has lived at the house for more than 30 years and has known about the connection to the squadron for many years.

Three squadrons of the 406 fighter group came to Ashford in 1944 in preparation for the D-day landings. The squadron flew P47 Thunderbolt planes which supported allied troops as they fought through Europe.

Mr Parritt said: "They were brave men. They were the first pilots to shoot down a doodlebug. They then followed the campaign all through Europe until they met up with the Russians."

Mr Parritt said his home had been the squadron's headquarters. The commanding officer and the dentist lived in the house. The rest of the men lived in tents in the accompanying field.

He told Yourashford: "My son-in-law mentioned the story to the local paper in the US and they contacted me. It's quite a big story over there.

"We still find lots of things in the garden relating to the house's history from bullets from World War Two right back to clay pipes from the civil war. We even got an old baseball that we found in the garden."

STRANGE COINCIDENCE: Brian Parritt (above) says he is amazed after pilot named on dog-tag lived close to his daughter - 3,200 miles away.

Stadium costs revealed

MAINTENANCE costs for the Julie Rose Stadium are expected to be £175,000 over the next five years.

The annual cost to the council of the venue in Willesborough over the last five years has been around £18,000 per annum, plus £105,000 for track repairs, making a total of £195,000 over the period.

The new figure for future work includes track resurfacing.

Mark Carty, head of cultural services at Ashford council, said: "One of our jobs is to provide the infrastructure to enable and encourage people to lead active and healthy lives."

Parents' tribute to PC daughter killed in crash

THE parents of a female police officer killed in a motorcycle crash last week have paid an emotional tribute to their daughter.

Katie Mitchell, 39, from Kingsnorth, died as she made her way to work in Tonbridge last Wednesday.

Her bike collided with a car on the Cranbrook Road in Goudhurst, near Tunbridge Wells. The cause of the crash is the subject of an ongoing investigation by police.

Now her parents have paid tribute to her as a "very loving and caring daughter".

Grieving mother and father Peter and Jackie Brown said: "Katie wanted to be a police officer from a very early age. She was very creative, articulate, successful and lived life to the full.

"Katie was a member of a very large family and she will be sadly missed by everyone.

"She always put others first and had a very kind and loving nature.

She was the perfect daughter."

Ms Mitchell worked at Tonbridge police station and was well known in the area – especially through her volunteer work with a local wildlife project.

He parents said: "Katie loved her animals and had a Bengal-cross cat that she adored.

"She was also artistic and loved gardening and seeing things grow.

"As well as her police job, she was a volunteer working with big cats at the Wildlife Heritage Foundation in Smarden at the weekends.

"She conducted tours for visitors and loved telling everyone about breeding programmes for endangered species of animals.

"Katie was someone who enjoyed all aspects of life and she packed an incredible amount into her 39 years."

Chief Superintendent Mark Sudbury, her commanding officer, also paid tribute to PC Mitchell as "vibrant and bubbly".

of town centre roadshow

THE Community Safety Unit will be holding a week-long roadshow at the County Square shopping centre this week.

Representatives from the emergency services, Ashford council and Kent County Council will also be there to give useful advice to shoppers on safety and security issues.

Items including timers and window and shed alarms will be available for free and there will be information about Neighbourhood Watch schemes and property marking.

The event got underway on Monday.

PUPILS at the North School showcased produce from their community farm to the chairman of the National Sustainable Farming and Food Delivery Group on Thursday.

Sir Don Curry made the visit to find out how sustainable farming and food is being promoted locally.

The North School Community Farm was established in 1936 and provides its pupils and other local schools with the opportunity to have hands-on experience of knowing where their food comes from.

Photographic exhibition to highlight climate change

A PHOTOGRAPHIC exhibition highlighting the influence on the British countryside of climate change will be staged at Chartwell House from October 12-21.

The Exposed exhibition was commissioned by the National Trust who asked ten of the UK's top photographers to capture the effects on film.

The exhibition highlights some of the consequences of climate change, from flowers appearing unusually early in the spring, to new invading pests and sudden flash floods.

Crackdown on dangers posed by young drivers

YOUNG drivers at risk on our roads are to be the subject of a relaunched safety campaign by Kent Fire and Rescue.

It comes after the latest figures reveal nearly 500 youngster aged between 17 to 24 have died or been seriously injured on the county's roads over the last three years.

Now, in conjunction with the Kent and Medway Safety Camera Partnership, the 'Grow Up. Slow Down' campaign has been dusted off with a view to highlighting the dangers of driving at inappropriate speeds.

Scheme to set youngsters on right path
Pupils shown benefits of pedal power

CHILDREN at Tenterden Primary School are being encouraged to get on their bikes – in a bid to promote a healthier lifestyle.

Seventy-five children travelled to school by bike for the Dr Bike event organised by cycling charity, Sustrans.

The charity, which co-ordinates the 12,000 miles of the national cycle network, has launched its Bike It campaign to increase the number of pupils deploying pedal power.

Simon Allum, Sustrans officer for Kent, said: "The bike to school day and Dr Bike are just the beginning of a whole year of activities to help children and parents to cycle to school.

"We know that 31 per cent of children would like to cycle to school but only one per cent actually do.

"There's an enormous potential for increased cycling levels and it's vital that we give young people the opportunity to travel in ways which are healthy, sustainable and fun."

As part of the Dr Bike event, mechanics from Apollo Cycle Sport in Tenterden offered their services for free to help parents and children service their bikes, while pupils took part in a whole morning of fun cycling activities.

Tenterden is one of 12 schools in the county that are part of the scheme.

Mr Allum said: "We have targeted primary and secondary schools. All schools have to have a travel plan by 2010.

"We have chosen the ones that have already made a commitment to cycling. It also fits in well with the general policy of helping to improve children's health.

"There are practical issues that have to be addressed. We run the project in a phased way. Initially it's about raising children's awareness, like giving the kids a map with a safe route for their journey. Then we have to look at improving kids' cycling skills and providing storage for the bikes."

GET IN GEAR: Tenterden Primary School pupils took their bikes to school as part of the Dr Bike event

Where the Bike It scheme has been introduced at other schools cycling levels have risen by 10 per cent.

Nationally, the Bike It scheme is funded by Cycling England and the cycling industry. The county council has added its support by backing local projects.

See plans for the town's future

IF you missed the chance to see future plans for the centre of Ashford don't despair – just log-on to www.yourkenttv.co.uk.

Our TV crew attended the recent exhibition, held in a marquee on Lower High Street, which gave residents the chance to see how the town is set to evolve as it undergoes a major facelift.

The exhibition was part of Kent Highways' attempt to keep the public informed of the changes that are planned.

Although much of the work has been completed on the ring-road, there are still major works to be carried out on Bank Street, Elwick Road and Victoria Road.

Defending some of the criticisms of the project so far, Kent County Council's Jamie Watson said: "I know there has been a mixed response. I think people expected everything to be perfect right from July 1 but there is still an awful lot to."

The exhibition also included a model presented by Ashford council showing many of the future developments intended for the town, including the Learning Campus and the Smartlink bus services.

POPULAR: Danielle Masters (inset) says organisers may rue taking the Ladies English Open away from Chart Hills

Golfer Dani angry over loss of Open

ONE of the county's top female players says she is "gutted" after the region's biggest annual golfing event was driven into the rough.

Organisers of the Ladies English Open have confirmed the event will no longer be staged at Biddenden's Chart Hills course – and instead will be switched to a course in Oxford.

The move comes with two years left to run on the existing hosting agreement which stretches until 2009. A lack of big-money sponsors is blamed.

Over the last four years the event has attracted thousands of spectators and a host of top names – including British legend Laura Davies, former British Open winner Karen Stupples, and rising young star Danielle Masters.

Masters, 24, who lives in Maidstone, finished third at this year's event.

She told Yourashford: "I'm gutted the tournament is moving – it's my home course. It's a real shame. I don't think they realise how popular the event was."

"It will be interesting to see if The Oxfordshire will attract sponsors and the amount of spectators that Chart Hills attracted."

"We have a lot of young golfers coming through the ranks and now they will not have the chance to see the best women golfers in the world play and pick up tips from them."

Leaderboard, the owner of both Chart Hills and the tournament's new home, The Oxfordshire, says it made the move in a bid to breathe new life into an event which has struggled against a lack of sponsorship.

But the threat of switching it to another of its courses has long been whispered.

It has struggled in the past to find a firm to snap up the lucrative naming rights to the events and has been affected by scheduling issues for the last two years.

July's event had to be brought forward by a day to avoid a clash with the Tour de France – which dominated local headlines – while the year before it was forced to shift from its traditional summer slot on the calendar to October to avoid clashing with an event in the US.

Rod Park, general manager of Chart Hills, said: "We believe The Oxfordshire has a larger catchment area for potential sponsors to invest in the event."

"It may return to Chart Hills in the future, it is a good event to host and it brings a lot of spectators to the course."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Ghostly Ashford tale on list for the Booker Prize

THE WINNER of the 2007 Booker Prize will be announced next Tuesday – with a book set in Ashford among the favourites to scoop the literary gong.

Darkmans, by Nicola Barker, is described as a 'contemporary ghost story set in modern day Ashford'.

The 800-page novel is among the front runners for the hotly-contested prize which gives the winner a cheque for £50,000 and a designer-bound copy of their winning tome.

The winning author can also look forward to a huge surge in sales thanks to the publicity.

Barker, 41, took four years to write the novel and spent much of that time in the town researching the book.

The Darkman of the novel refers to John Scogin Edward IV's court jester who haunts the modern characters of the book.

Howard Davies, chairman of the judging panel, said: "Selecting a shortlist this year was a tough challenge. We hope the choices we have made after passionate and careful consideration, will attract wide interest."

Truck driver trapped in cab after bridge collision

NEWTOWN Road was shut for more than two hours last Wednesday after a truck carrying a cherry picker got jammed under the railway bridge.

The incident happened at 6pm in the evening. The driver of the vehicle was trapped in the cab but was freed by emergency services. He was not hurt.

Trains ran under caution while the damage was assessed by a civil engineer.

Live wires from a damaged illuminated sign delayed recovery, as they had to be made safe before emergency services could remove the vehicle.

The road was reopened at 8.20pm.

Pupils cook up a storm as part of after-school drive

CHILDREN at Christ Church High School in Ashford are following the example of Jamie Oliver and cooking lunch themselves.

The Fun and Food club is part of a range of activities called Project X to help children make the most of their lunchtimes.

Other classes include nail painting. Deputy head Jo-Ann Hughes said: "The scheme is aimed at getting children of all abilities to enjoy taking part in interesting extra-curricula activities."

It is hoped the scheme will lead to before and after-school clubs.

Warning after bikes go missing around the town

A SPATE of bicycle thefts around the town has prompted police to issue warnings to owners to take additional security measures.

At least a dozen bikes have been stolen over the last two weeks. Thieves are targeting bike racks in the town centre and at the Stour Centre – targeting those secured by chains which can be cut with bolt crops.

Now police are urging cyclists to invest in metal security locks or heavy-duty chains. In addition, the Community Safety Unit can mark bikes with a unique security code.

It costs £2.50 and allows the owner to be identified if the bike is recovered. Call Mr Manning on 07772 225959 to find out how.

A lesson in teaching kids about their council

ASHFORD council members are going back to school in a bid to raise the street cred of local democracy.

Some eight schools in the borough are taking part in Take Your Councillor to School Day this month as part of National Local Democracy Week.

As well as a chance for councillors to gauge the opinions of young people in their own environment, the sessions will enable pupils to discover more about local government and how they can get involved in improving their communities.

A survey identified half of young people believed their council had no direct control or relevance to their lives.

QUESTION & ANSWER

DAMIAN GREEN

Q & A

Q You were first elected to Parliament in 1997. How has Ashford changed since then?

A In the 10 years I have been Ashford's MP the town has grown relentlessly. Inevitably, this has had mixed results.

Q Ashford has had a reputation for being an uninteresting town. Do you think this is fair?

A Ashford used to be the largest town in England without a cinema, and was renowned as a place with inadequate shopping and leisure facilities. The fast growth has meant that the private sector can see new opportunities here and has responded with new shops, cinemas, restaurants, cafes and health clubs. Unfortunately, the public sector has been slower to respond, so we have seen the growth of traffic jams, parking problems and pressure on other public services. One of my main jobs as Ashford's MP is persuading central Government to be sensible about the resources Ashford needs to keep life here civilised and sustainable.

Q Ashford is due for huge expansion in the next few years. Are you worried it might lose some of its character?

A Inevitably, Ashford's character has changed as it grows, and it is sometimes difficult for it to establish an identity. It needs to be recognised as a modern town with better facilities than those it used to have, while retaining its roots in its Kentish heritage.

Q What do you think the chances are of getting Eurostar to restore its services to Brussels from Ashford?

A Eurostar is proving stupidly obdurate in failing to listen to the wide coalition that wants it to keep some services between Ashford and Brussels. There is no sign that it will change its mind.

Q As shadow minister for immigration do you think Ashford is in a good position to take advantage of the new labour laws across Europe?

A I think the main effect on Ashford of new arrivals from Europe has been in the farming industry, and local farmers speak very highly of their new workers. I suspect many of these farm workers will drift off to other jobs as the years pass.

Q Do you have some hobby or interest that people might be surprised to learn about?

A I am a life-long fan of Reading Football Club and have spent the last few years enjoying better football than I have been used to before.

Q What things of modern life do you like? What things annoy you?

A I love new technology and think the internet is both useful and enjoyable. I have my own website (www.damiangreen.org) and I am on Facebook and use sites like YouTube and Bebo. On the downside of modern life, I think manners in public places are worse than I can ever remember, and I dislike the reduction in everyone's privacy.

Q Has being an MP turned out to be as fun as you expected?

A Being an MP has turned out to be as hard work as I expected, but most of it is enjoyable. I would just like to spend some time soon on the Government benches instead, though.

Q The new Ashford depot for the Hitachi high-speed trains has been opened by the Secretary of State and the Japanese ambassador. What impact will these new services have on the town?

A The high-speed link will be great news for commuters and will make Ashford a more attractive location for inward investment.

Q Is it a sad reflection on the state of British manufacturing that we have to import these trains to complete this service?

A I am less concerned about who makes the trains than that they are safe and reliable. One question for Ruth Kelly is why she did so little to help keep Ashford's Eurostar service to Brussels. At the same time as we are celebrating fast domestic services, we need to be reassured that we will keep our international services.

With an election looming, Damian Green reflects on his 10 years since first being elected as the town's MP and talks to Ed Hill about his hopes for the future of the town and his love of internet craze Facebook

Legal boss aims for world's best service

EXCLUSIVE

BY SIMON ROBINSON

THE NEW head of the county's Crown Prosecution Service says he wants to make it "an example of excellence" revered around the globe.

Roger Coe-Salazar has revealed plans to reduce the low-level crime which blights communities and boost public confidence to lower the fear of crime.

As the chief crown prosecutor for Kent he wants to make the service more accessible to people and ensure victims and witnesses of crime trust the CPS to be professional and efficient.

His proposals for improvements will focus on modernisation, dynamism, confidence and skills.

Mr Coe-Salazar, who joined the CPS in 1999, said: "We are committed to the vision of making Kent's CPS into a world-class prosecution service, something which is regarded as an example of excellence."

The proposals centre on making the service more accessible, building links with other criminal justice agencies and delegating accountability back to individual areas with the overall aim of improving public confidence in the CPS.

Mr Coe-Salazar, who served as a soldier in the Army for 13 years, said he hoped residents would have a far more positive outlook on the CPS by the end of next year.

The former lawyer said improvements had been made and would be bolstered with a raft of new measures set to be introduced in the coming months.

He said: "The CPS is a completely different organisation to what it was five years ago."

"While there's been a lot of progress it's important to state we're only part way up the hill."

"Our particular emphasis is to increase people's confidence in us by explaining what we do far more openly."

"The CPS has historically not been a very open organisation but we realise public confidence is derived from understanding, and that people don't trust what they don't understand."

"Our problem has been that people don't really understand what we do."

Mr Coe-Salazar said links with other criminal justice agencies would be strengthened and that a number of panels would be set up to garner trust from Kent's residents.

He said: "By March we aim to have set up a hate crime scrutiny panel, in which all minority communities in Kent will be represented."

Drug dealers

"The panel will review past cases in a bid to learn from them. We also plan to set up a community involvement panel for the whole of the South East."

"We hope to reduce the fear of crime – and lower the rate of crime itself – as there's nothing more inhibiting to someone's life than feeling afraid when they walk out of their homes onto the streets, scared their house is going to get burgled, or hassled by drug dealers on each street corner."

"People sometimes think the CPS is just a civil servant government agency but we're determined to improve people's quality of life and tackle the low-level crime that really hurts."

"We want to bring a human face to the service by showing that there is genuine passion behind those prosecuting in cases and that we genuinely feel for victims and witnesses."

"When victims of crime go to court in the future we want them to say 'The prosecution have got their act together' and know much more about us and what we do."

ON A MISSION: Head of Kent CPS Roger Coe-Salazar

Council tax evaders are made to pay back monies

FIVE people have appeared before Ashford magistrates charged with evading council tax payments.

James Bedwell, 50, from St Barnabus Close, was sentenced to 28 days in jail for owing just over £1,700. His sentence was suspended provided he pays instalments of £60 a week.

Lawrence Mason, 40, and John MacGregor, 68, both from Kingsnorth, and Valerie Andrews, 45, from Arcon Road, who owed nearly £6,400 between them were also ordered to pay their arrears in instalments.

A fifth person Linda Hammant, 54, of Arden Drive was also brought to court regarding an unpaid bill of £3,333.44 – accrued over six years. Magistrates adjourned the matter to November.

Ashford given 36 'extra care' homes in £72m deal

THIRTY-six new apartments for the elderly and disabled are to be built in the town following a major new £72 million deal.

Countywide, 340 of the 'extra care' apartments will be built, with 36 being constructed on Hopkins Field in Eastern Avenue by 2010.

The apartments will provide an alternative to residential care, giving people access to as much support as if they were in a care home so they can remain independent even if they become frail, disabled or confused.

Ashford council leader Paul Clokie said: "Ashford has played a key role in enabling and facilitating this project and as a result we will achieve 36 units of much-needed supported homes for older residents of the borough, in a town centre location that is ideal for access to all the services that the residents of these homes will require."

Charity is in need of help

THE mobility charity Shopmobility is asking for volunteers as well as financial support to keep its site at Vicarage Lane car park.

The service allows elderly and disabled people the chance to hire electric buggies so they can do their shopping.

Viv Kenny, from the Ashford Town Centre partnership, said: "A bid for lottery funding has been made, but a decision on this could be some months away."

Each week we get a mystery writer to air their views on living in the district of Ashford...

No smokes? Fire will be directed at shopkeepers

LOOKING hard just got harder for baby-faced nicotine addicts as the minimum age to buy cigarettes has been raised to 18.

And no ID means no fags... unless mum is happy to pick them up with the weekly groceries, although in some cases proof of age might still be required.

And how next year's GCSE students are going to cope with exam stress is anyone's guess, but teenage puffers will not be the only ones affected by the bizarre new law.

Here is a summary: 16 year olds are still allowed to smoke in the privacy of their own bike shed, bedroom, street corner etcetera, but are not allowed to buy tobacco products.

Now I know smoking is bad for you, and every cigarette reduces your life expectancy by 60 years, blah blah, cough, blah. But it seems a bit unfair to make small shop keepers carry the burden of saying no.

In fact, I'm not convinced that introducing badly-publicised retrospective laws is a great way to deal with adolescent addicts at all.

We now have a situation where, until last week, once they hit the ripe old age of 16 kids could buy as many packets of Benson's as they could cram in their pockets.

Now suddenly they can't, and the frustration this causes in the mind of your average nicotine deprived, tracksuited, trainer fetishist is a sight to behold.

Confusion

A range of emotions spill forth from under the baseball cap... first confusion, then disbelief, briefly distraction as a particularly nice, blinged-up Escort goes past, and then rage at what must seem a rather unreasonable state of affairs.

And who is this rage directed at? I doubt it is written down in a carefully considered letter to the local MP. Instead it means more abuse for shopkeepers forced to refuse to sell people, who only the week before they'd happily served, a product they are allowed to consume in the first place.

The real test will be whether the new legislation cuts the number of teens lighting up, but it doesn't bode well. The crux of the matter is that it is not against the law for 16 year olds to smoke, so making the purchase of cigarettes illegal is nothing but an annoyance to the dedicated young smoker.

There are plenty of older friends or siblings willing to pay the money and hand over the fags, and plenty of illegal duty frees on market stalls and boot fairs up and down the country. This law risks concealing the true numbers of sub-18 smokers, making the problem worse than ever.

TALK TIME

ROB DIXON

As landlord of the Albion public house in Willesborough, Rob Dixon discusses his job and changes to the town

What makes the Albion a special pub?

We get a rich diversity of people using the pub from all walks of life. It's an eclectic mix but they all blend together very well. This site has been a pub for a very long time. We have records of it being a beer house in 1700 although it has been known as the Albion since 1850. I want everyone who comes into this pub to have a good time and feel safe. I want it to be a bit of a haven from the outside world.

Do your regulars like to set the world to rights when they talk about things?

You get some very intelligent people in this pub. Some are very astute. Some people think they know it all. You can soon spot the ones that don't. The majority of my customers are wonderful and very generous. We managed to raise £7,000 last year for charity. It's a traditional, honest pub, and very much part of the community. We have live music and a big sports following.

What's the worst part about being a landlord?

You never know who that next person is going to be coming through the door. But I love it. I am my own boss and I have great staff who help me. It is getting harder to run a pub these days because of spiralling costs. We have been here for three years and we have seen the two biggest changes in pub life that there has ever been. One has been the extended opening hours and the other is the smoking ban.

What do you think of the changes that are happening to Ashford?

I think it is getting too big without enough provision for infrastructure but I like Ashford. There's enough housing we need to keep what green parts we can. There has to be a time when we say that is enough.

YOUR LETTERS

Kerbing pedestrian anger about road

I have been aware for a long time that anyone with a push-chair or wheelchair, has a problem getting across Canterbury Road at the junction with Little Burton Farm Lane in Kennington (where the footway also stops – another reason to have to cross the road), because there is no dropped-kerb.

This morning I saw a woman with three young children trying to cross the road. The children had bicycles. The kerb opposite the lane is high.

A dropped-kerb could be provided even before the long awaited, and long-overdue, pedestrian crossing gets the go-ahead.

The road was never designed to cater for today's volume of motor traffic, nor at the speed much of it travels – historically the road was never designed, it evolved from a cart track. Pedestrians' interests have hardly ever been considered.

Red light for race track roundabout

It was inevitable the recent delays at junction 10 due to a faulty traffic light, would result in a knee-jerk response from your readers demanding that the traffic lights should be removed, but it is equally inevitable that doing so would make the roundabout a much more dangerous place.

True, the lack of lights during the recent re-modelling of the roundabout saw traffic flowing smoothly, but your readers need to remember that a lot of traffic was avoiding the junction during that period and the rest of us were taking it steady because of the cones, barriers and workmen in the way.

Take the lights away now and the four lanes of lovely, new, smooth black tarmac and sweeping bends would be a recipe for chaos. As a highway engineer pointed out to me, the lights are not there to make traffic go faster, they are there to slow it down. There is also, of course, the question of how pedestrians would reach the footbridge.

Demanding to know why brand new traffic lights were allowed to fail is one thing; clamouring to have the roundabout turned into a race track is quite another.

Sinden Theatre is acting for Ashford

I am writing in response to a number of your correspondents and the debate concerning the demand, or lack of demand, for a theatre in Ashford. I would just like to take the opportunity through your pages to remind Yourashford readers about the excellent Sinden Theatre at Tenterden, geographically located within the borough of Ashford and certainly nearer than Canterbury.

Although we can never match The Marlowe and the big names a thousand-seater venue is able to attract, we can, nevertheless, offer the people of the area an excellent variety of entertainment.

No, we're not The Marlowe but we are a very friendly, intimate 231-seat theatre, fully equipped to the highest professional standards and more than delighted to have the bums of the people of Ashford gracing our seats.

Please call us or email and we will be happy to discuss your requirements with you. Our flexible approach will ensure that your special event will be one to remember.

Ashford will go on with the show

In answer to S Grant's comments in last week's letters page about a "theatre in Ashford being a waste of time and effort", I would like to say the following.

Clearly, the writer has obviously not taken the trouble to visit our website at www.ashfordtheatre-project.co.uk, otherwise he or she would know that we are working toward a theatre that is multi-functional, versatile and viable.

It is true that it would cost millions but, as stated on the website, that would come from investment rather than council tax money and is a very active "work in progress".

The Marlowe is a fine theatre, I agree. The only trouble is, it is not in Ashford and my 'doorstep' doesn't reach that far.

A great many of us don't have cars and have to rely on public transport, a point which S Grant seems to have conveniently overlooked. Besides, in this day and age when we are all encouraged to be 'climate conscious' the writer is actively promoting the pollution of our atmosphere.

There are many towns nearby that have a theatre. Maidstone, Folkestone, Canterbury, Whitstable, Faversham, to name but a few. Unfortunately, Ashford is not on that list.

S Grant is entitled to be negative and, I'm sure, is not alone in taking the easy, 'opt-out' stance. Unfortunately, nothing gets achieved by negativity. We want to achieve – and we will!

Jack Cowen,
Ashford Theatre Project

Theatre would be money well spent

Having discovered your midweek publication today, and obviously missed the opening of the exchange of views regarding a new theatre, I was encouraged to see the letters from Ed Turner and Sarah Young in last week's letters page.

I have long been advocating the provision of such a facility in Ashford since the demise of our last theatre in 1955.

It seems we only care about providing sports and fitness (very worthwhile of course) wine bars and noisy pubs and clubs (OK for those who like them) and constant concerns that there's nothing for the youngsters.

Well – what about the 'oldsters'?

Not everyone likes bingo and the aforementioned places and, I have to take issue with the quite thoughtless comment from S Grant who hit the nail on the head when writing that 'The Marlowe is just 30 minutes drive away'.

Exactly – just how does he/she think that those who have to rely on public transport get to and from The Marlowe (or The Hazlitt, or The Leas Cliff etc)? Does he/she realise just how many older and disabled members of any town are limited to sitting at home watching TV day after day because there are few places for them to go?

No, S Grant, a theatre would not be a waste of money – (it's MY money too) and it could bring much enjoyment to the forgotten members of our locale who have no transport, as well as encouraging young performers.

We are constantly told 'Ashford – Best Placed in Britain' – well – not if you love the theatre.

D Collins
Ashford

Putting the spotlight on council tax rise

It seems the campaigners for a Marlowe-sized theatre in Ashford are unaware of the implications and costs involved.

Firstly, a theatre requires a catchment area containing a million people – that's without competition only thirty miles away to stand any chance of breaking even.

It is also a fact that the average theatre loses approximately a million pounds a year. Very few outside London break-even let alone make a profit.

If the council were to run the theatre it would lead to a massive rise in council tax. As I am yet to meet a theatre supporter willing to pay more council tax, that must be a non-starter.

Of course, if the private sector was to step in to build and run a theatre I would whole heartily support one in Ashford although I suspect this too is a non-starter as most theatres are not economically viable.

Eat, drink and be very merry

Enjoy the best Kent has to offer at weekend of locally-grown food and drink extravaganza

THE rich variety of food and drink produced in Kent will be celebrated at an exciting new event in Canterbury.

Experience the tastes and smells of our best goodies at the two-day Kent Food and Drink Festival this weekend, supported by KOS Media as the festival's media partner.

Arranged by Produced in Kent, the champion of local produce, the extravaganza should offer something for every palette.

Canterbury city council and the ABode Hotel are also supporting the festival, where people can experience everything from tasting sessions to cookery demonstrations.

More than 30 stallholders will be displaying their high-quality produce in the Dane John Gardens on both days, giving visitors the chance to enjoy tutored wine and beer tastings and advice on how to match food and drink.

The aim of the festival is to celebrate our heritage as the Garden of England and show people just what Kent has to offer.

Acclaimed chef Michael Caines, co-founder of the ABode hotel group, believes that the festival will be a great opportunity to promote the county's rich array of produce.

He said: "An event of this size is just what Kent needs. There are some wonderful artisan producers here and their work needs championing."

"It's great that as a county, Kent will have the chance to take ownership of the food produced locally. It's all part of the culture and is really worth celebrating."

FOOD AND DRINK FESTIVAL

Saturday, October 13 and Sunday, October 14
Dane John Gardens, Canterbury

The festival opens at 10am on both days and there is a busy programme of events in the demonstration marquee. Highlights of Saturday's schedule include The Best of Kent on a Plate by Mark Rossi, of ABode Canterbury; Mo Joslin's Farmhouse Kitchen; and a wine masterclass from Hilde-Marie Smith, from Catering 4 Kent.

On Sunday, Oliver Joyce, of Ashford's Eastwell Manor restaurant, opens the day by revealing how to make the best Kentish desserts, with Damrong Garbutt, from Ramsgate's Surin restaurant, bringing the festival to a close with a taste of Thai cuisine.

The event will coincide with the start of the Canterbury Festival, one of the largest cultural events in England. On the Saturday, the arts festival's parade of colour and light will finish at the Dane John Gardens with a light and firework show.

The food and drink festival will stay open until 9pm, closing at 4pm on Sunday.

There will be an opportunity for the public to nominate their favourite food and drink producers in the popular Taste of Kent Awards, which will be launched at the event.

During the weekend, selected restaurants and pubs in Canterbury will be offering a special festival menu celebrating local produce. Visit [www.producedin kent.co.uk](http://www.producedin kent.co.uk) for a list of events.

Celebrity chef Michael Caines believes the festival is a great way to celebrate our heritage

MICHAEL MCINTYRE

Friday, October 19
Gulbenkian Theatre, Canterbury

AFTER another successful run at festivals around the world, comedian Michael McIntyre is travelling down to Canterbury.

And public transport is one of the chatterbox comic's bugbears as he shares stories about tubes, trains and buses.

Living in London, McIntyre admits the financial strain of running a car in the capital provides plenty of material.

"I think we should humanise pay-and-display machines," he mused. "Make people collect the money from motorists – they could undercut each other and keep things interesting."

Before he hit the big time as a comedian, McIntyre unwittingly appeared on two documentaries, though not for the most desirable reasons.

He revealed: "Once, a bailiff came round to collect on an unpaid parking ticket and he had a crew from Radio 4 with him. Another time, I opened the door to find the team from Life Of Grime trying to catch a rat outside. I thought it was my big break."

Michael McIntyre will be appearing at the Gulbenkian Theatre at 7.45pm on Friday, October 19. Tickets cost £14/£12. To book, call 01227 769075 or visit the website at www.gulbenkiantheatre.co.uk.

of productions, including Phantom of the Opera, Oklahoma! and Brigadoon.

Former Generation Game presenter and musical star Melanie Stace will also be bringing her talents to the show.

She said: "There is a lot of dancing and it's been quite gruelling to prepare, but it's a great show which brings together all the best bits from our favourite shows."

"It's great stepping into the shoes of fantastic characters, like Sally Bowles in Cabaret."

It's all about your father

■ BY EILEEN CONDON

DESPITE that Best Supporting Actor Oscar for his deeply poignant performance in the movie Iris, you won't hear Jim Broadbent shouting it from the rooftops.

However, all that has changed with the 58-year-old's latest movie, And When Did You Last See Your Father, which drew such strong parallels with his own parental relationships, he can't hold back.

"The father, who I play in this film was an exact contemporary of my own father," he enthuses. "They were born in the same year, had an awful lot of similar experiences, a love of old cars, were both philanderers," he adds with an affectionate smile.

The role also brought back devastating memories of his own father's death more than 30 years ago, which Jim admits he's found difficult to talk about until now.

"My character in the film died in exactly the same way as my own father, from cancer with the family around him," he recalls. "I was heartbroken as a 22-year-old. It was a long time ago, but I remember being utterly distraught by the experience."

The film, based on the best-selling, autobiographical book by novelist Blake Morrison, is a poignant account of the relationship between eccentric and stubborn GP Arthur (Broadbent) and his son Blake (Colin Firth).

Seen from the perspective of Blake as his father lies dying of cancer, the movie unfolds in a series of flashbacks that reveal secrets and lies at the heart of the seemingly respectable family.

Though writer Morrison based his book on events in his own household Jim believes it's a story which touches on a universal truth.

"I think his book is a success because it's such an honest account of relationships, in particular with your parents," suggests the star. "Certainly lots of people will find resonance. Everybody on set talked about their fathers while we were shooting."

He describes his relationship with his own dad as fairly typical. "I loved him, felt embarrassed and infuriated by him, the usual teenage stuff between fathers and sons," he says.

Born in Lincolnshire to pacifist parents, his father became a conscientious objector when World War II broke out. Both his parents were interested in the arts, his mother was a sculptor and it was his father who encouraged Jim to go take up acting.

Typically, Jim is self deprecating about winning a place at the prestigious LAMDA drama school: "I wasn't really good looking enough to get the parts. It was four or five years after I left before I saw a TV camera. I just didn't think I was very interesting either."

The showbusiness world would beg to differ. Directors such as Woody Allen, Mike Leigh, Martin Scorsese and Stephen Spielberg have all approached the actor to appear in movies. His film credits include a string of Oscar winners and box office hits, such as Nixon, Moulin Rouge, Bridget Jones's Diary, Topsy Turvey, The Lion The Witch And The Wardrobe, and Iris.

His TV career has been equally successful. Earlier this year he won a BAFTA for his portrayal of Lord Longford in the TV drama Longford. He also earned a BAFTA nomination for The Young Visitors, as well as Golden Globe, and Emmy nominations for HBO classic The Gathering Storm.

Despite demand from Hollywood, Jim admits to being a homebird, preferring to work in the UK and remain close to his wife of 20 years, Anastasia Lewis, and his two step-sons.

Truly pampered in Provence

BY TREVOR MASON

A jagged bolt of lightning split the sky as clouds rolled in over the pre-Alps. Viewed from the comfort of the hotel's outdoor Jacuzzi it made a dramatic, if slightly surreal scene.

This was hardly the weather we were expecting on a late May/early June visit to Provence and the Cote D'Azur. When it cleared, the surrounding mountains were swathed in snow, making the panorama even more breathtaking.

The storm, which soon broke directly overhead, was a meteorological blip in an otherwise hot and sunny stay in the south of France.

Surprised locals assured us it was a once-in-a-decade occurrence and we considered ourselves lucky, in viewing terms at least, to have had a small taste of winter in the summer.

The base for our stay was the studied elegance of Le Mas Candille, an award-winning four-star deluxe spa hotel, situated in the medieval village of Mougins.

Like much of southern France, Le Mas Candille is popular with British visitors. Converted from an 18th century olive farm, it is perched on a hillside with extensive grounds and views to Grasse and the mountains beyond.

Many of the 40 opulently furnished bedrooms have verandas with long distance views, but it is the Shiseido Spa that helps set Le Mas Candille apart from many other residences.

Using the unique Qi method – a blend of Oriental and Western practices – a range of treatments is available to relieve stress and promote relaxation.

While I opted for a wonderfully relaxing and rejuvenating one-hour back care treatment, my wife had a 90-minute 'time balance' facial, which she assured me was better than any she had experienced in England.

Difficult though it was to tear ourselves away from the hotel, the village of Mougins, just five minutes walk away, is well worth a visit.

At one time it was considered more important than nearby Cannes, and the surviving ramparts and Saracen Gate testify to its power in the Middle Ages. Today, it is a fascinating mix of narrow streets and alleyways, art galleries, cafes and restaurants to suit all pockets.

Picasso discovered Mougins in 1935 and lived there from 1961 to the end of his life.

Mougins is also an excellent base to explore the region, with Cannes just 25 minutes away by bus; Nice a 30-minute drive, and the rest of the French Riviera nearby.

The area is ideal for gourmands, food and drink are sure to figure in any holiday here.

No stay in Mougins would be complete without a visit to Le Moulin de Mougins, the acclaimed restaurant run by chef Alain Llorca and rated by at least one guide as one of the greatest in the world.

On our visit, Alain welcomed us with champagne cocktails before cooking a specially prepared meal served in a roomy, comfortable and elegant dining room by his friendly staff.

A series of subtly crafted, very different, but complimentary dishes – including foie gras, cuttlefish and truffles – floated by.

The dessert was even more spectacular – a kind of chocolate bombe, which collapsed when hot chocolate sauce was poured over it, revealing raspberry sorbet inside.

Expensive, yes, but for a unique gastronomic experience Le Moulin de Mougins is well worth pushing the boat out. It's an ideal addition to a relaxing stay at Le Mas Candille.

YOUR WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY RUSSELL GRANT

AQUARIUS (Jan 21 - Feb 19)

YOU could be given a gift, grant, or inheritance in the next four weeks. Use these funds for something beautiful or luxurious. Stepping up your exercise routine will heighten your sexual allure. Avoid lending or borrowing money, as such a practice will undermine a close friendship. If you may crave intellectual stimulation.

PISCES (Feb 20 - Mar 20)

THIS is a favourable time to enter into partnerships of all kinds. If you're embarking on a romance, let this person do the chasing. Don't challenge your superior's authority, or you'll get a reputation for being disagreeable. Opening an account is favoured. It's time to start thinking about your long-term financial security.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr 20)

DAILY life becomes a lot more pleasant now that you're finished with an odious task. Frustration with your sedentary lifestyle could prompt you to begin an exercise routine. This isn't the best time to challenge an expert. A new romance or business association helps you to look at life through rose coloured glasses.

TAURUS (Apr 21 - May 21)

YOU'RE about to embark on the most romantic period of the entire year. If you're in a relationship, spend the next month wining and dining your beloved. In the event you're looking for love, you could find it at a sporting event, concert, or play. A refund or grant could fall through, forcing you to cancel a trip.

GEMINI (May 22 - Jun 22)

SPENDING more time with family gives you a sense of warmth and security. If you've been arguing with a female relative, now is the time to extend an olive branch. A new love or baby could make its way into your life. You're excited to begin a fresh chapter. Give an old sport or hobby a second chance.

CANCER (Jun 23 - Jul 23)

Tactful speech opens sticky doors. Your powers of persuasion could turn the tide in your favour. A passionate presentation helps you win the support of a respected teacher. Be careful about making inflated promises to a colleague. Buying a new home could be on the cards for you. It feels wonderful to have all this extra space.

LEO (July 24 - Aug 23)

BUSINESS ventures related to creativity, music and luxury items are all favoured. This would be a wonderful time to find a better paid job or make a judicious investment. Take care not to steamroll over a lover or child's feelings this week. Joining a club will put you in contact with some intelligent, stylish people who provide creative inspiration.

VIRGO (Aug 24 - Sep 23)

YOU exude charm, wit, and poise from every pore. Convincing others to do your bidding is as simple as crooking your finger in their direction. This blissful period will continue for the next month. Be willing to act as a respected authority figure's apprentice. Keeping an open mind will help you find some impressive earning opportunities.

LIBRA (Sep 24 - Oct 23)

A CLANDESTINE love affair could take up the lion's share of your time between now and early November. Adopting an aggressive stance toward a job offer will work in your favour. Changing your look will attract lots of admiring glances. Time for a brand new look and image. Revamping your wardrobe is also favoured.

SCORPIO (Oct 24 - Nov 22)

KINDNESS and consideration from friends gives you courage to take risks over the coming month. Take care not to run up lots of debt, or you could put yourself in a precarious position. A child or lover may ask for an expensive gift. Spending more time on solitary activities will recharge your batteries. Scale back your social schedule.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23 - Dec 21)

ROMANTIC opportunities come through career activities. Keep your eye open for a modest person who favours classical clothing styles. Go ahead and play the aggressor, as this person may be too shy to approach you for a date. Take care not to be too solicitous of a partner's needs, or they could become overly dependent.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22 - Jan 20)

YOU could develop an interest in foreign culture and lifestyles. If you've always wanted to take a trip overseas, schedule one this month. If you're already with someone special, this vacation will draw you closer together. A career opportunity could be yours for the asking. Businesses related to advertising, public relations and hospitality are all favoured.

Comedy turns to dark side of TV talk shows

BY GEMMA QUADE

JENNIFER Saunders has been making us chuckle for nearly 30 years with Dawn French, but her latest pal comes as a surprise – it's clinical psychologist Dr Tanya Byron, the voice of reason on the BBC's The House Of Tiny Tearaways.

Unusual as the pairing may be, the two have actually been friends for a couple of years.

"Tan was on The French And Saunders Show and we sort of stayed in contact after that and became friends," explains Jennifer, languishing in a plush hotel suite.

It turned out Tanya has always been a keen writer and had an idea for a new comedy creation, which she and Jennifer got to work on over numerous bottles of wine – and the outcome is the new BBC2 series, The Life And Times Of Vivienne Vyle.

"I couldn't believe nobody had done that, a comedy Ricki Lake or something, especially in America because it's huge over there," says 49-year-old Jennifer.

"The vile Vivienne is a person who has clawed her way into daytime television," she continues. "Her ambition is to become Oprah, so it's a series about her moving up that ladder. At first she's a bit of a low level Trisha, but one of the guests attacks her and it's an incident that changes her career and her life."

"She's not a nice person," Jennifer adds with a smile. "It's a black comedy and her ambition will cut through anything, she doesn't let anybody stand in her way. That doesn't mean she's clever – she's just ambitious. She loves living at a certain level of celebrity."

TV HOST: Jennifer Saunders plays the self-interested Vivienne Vyle in her latest black comedy

Jennifer and Tanya both had to do a lot of research in preparation for penning the series, which mostly entailed watching hours upon hours of Sally Jessy Raphael and Trisha.

"There's only so much you can watch before you throw the telly out the window!" she laughs. "Eventually it begins to repeat itself."

Although they insist the show is not a moral crusade, Jennifer and Tanya did want to explore where the line should be drawn between entertainment and human misery. Jennifer certainly thinks some of the practices used on the programmes are questionable.

"I remember watching one show where they had the camera backstage watching the person about to come on, and there was a researcher goading the guy saying, 'Remember what we said, when you go out there, you're going to give him what for'. It was so choreographed."

You can't get more dramatic than an incident that occurred in America in 1995 in the days after two friends had appeared on The Jenny Jones Show. On the programme, a gay man called Scott Amedure confessed to a secret crush on Jonathan Schmitz. Three days later Schmitz, who had a history of mental illness, killed Amedure.

Jennifer says the shows need to learn when to act with restraint instead of exploiting people with mental illnesses, even if they do plan to give participants counselling.

"You can put an Elastoplast on somebody that isn't seriously injured, but the second someone comes in and their guts are falling out, you want to send them to hospital," she says. "You don't sit them on TV and get somebody who's got a degree in sewing to have a look at them. Some things are too risky."

with Dr Christian Farthing
at the Ideal Spine Centre, Canterbury

WHIPLASH

Latest Research from the University of Columbia found that impacts at only 11mph causes harm to your body.

Studies also show that the effects of car accidents do not often raise themselves until years later.

One of the saddest things happened in my practice recently that now motivates me to share this important message with you. A lady aged 36, was involved in a car accident 11 years ago, travelling at 30mph. She thought she was lucky at the time, walking away unscathed with no obvious injuries. The day after the accident she did experience a little neck stiffness and so went to her local doctor. She was told, "you have mild whiplash", to go home and if it got any worse, to just pop a couple of anti-inflammatories. So that is what she did.

11 years later, that once fit and healthy young lady was referred to my practice by her new doctor. She had been suffering constant headaches, migraines, weakness in her arm and numbness in one hand.

After a thorough assessment and spinal x-rays it was discovered she had severe damage in her neck, so much so that it was too late...nothing could be done. Unfortunately she put off a spinal check for too long. And even more regrettable was the fact she had not been referred for proper spinal care years ago immediately after her accident.

This lady's tragic situation is not unique to her, and so, this has prompted me to explain something extremely important with you. Have you ever been involved in a car accident? Even if you were a passenger...don't be misled by the minimal damage to the car. Your body reacts much differently than glass, plastic and metal. Chances are you have incurred misalignment of the spine.

The problem in diagnosing such spinal problems is that you can't often feel them, and so progressively, the problem manifests itself causing spinal decay, arthritis, degeneration – damage.

In the past, you may have had a blood pressure check, pulse or temperature check, and even a urine and blood test. When was the last time you had a spinal health evaluation, to check and ensure your spine (which protects your spinal cord and nervous system) isn't putting pressure on your nerves silently and creating health problems now and for your future?

The only way to find out whether previous trauma, car accident or sports injury has created a problem is to have a spinal check up. If you have been putting this off, it is now time to do something about it.

If you want to get well and stay well, start questioning your doctor's recommendations. Then if you want you and your family to be the healthiest you can be, without medication, for life, go and see a Wellness Doctor.

During the month of October our family practice is providing free spine and posture health checks for families. The first 50 callers will also receive a copy of my most recent book to help understand the secrets to better health, naturally.

We look forward to helping you.

It's a vine time for wine-growers

THE MISERABLE summer weather has failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the region's winemakers.

Despite the wet conditions, sales for locally-produced wine is increasing and, with harvesting now underway, producers are predicting a top quality crop.

Frazer Thompson, managing director of Chapel Down Wines in Tenterden, said: "The conditions have actually worked out well. We may not have had a brilliant midsummer, but we had a fantastic April and the sun we have had in recent weeks has come just at the right time for us. It means the grapes we are getting are really high quality."

"The only thing is we don't quite have the quantity we would have liked."

With the rest of Europe experiencing similar conditions, the push for local producers is to make their still wines as popular as the widely acclaimed English sparkling wines.

Mr Thompson said: "People rarely drink sparkling wine all the time. We think it's important to encourage people to drink English wine on non-celebratory occasions."

Vintage

"We have had a phenomenal year with English Rosé which is the rosé wine we produce, but all our other wines have been fantastic. We will have pretty well sold out of everything we have got."

"In fact, we have had more visitors to the shop this year than ever before despite the bad weather."

Chapel Down sources its grapes from 180 vineyards from around the county and has recently acquired another 236 acres to increase production.

Mr Thompson said: "Although our harvest is slightly down this year it does not make too much of a difference, all it means is that there will be slightly less of this year's vintage."

Other producers are looking forward to profitable year.

Tom Jinks, from the Biddenden Vineyard, said: "We are in the great position of knowing we will sell 80 per cent direct to the public almost straight away."

Many growers from around Kent are looking into the possibility of growing vines instead of traditional soft fruits.

Mr Thompson added: "If you plant a vineyard it gives you scope for a whole range of business opportunities."

"It is important that we keep the quality high, producing cheap wine is just not sustainable."

UKIP plans flawed say Greens

GREEN Party chiefs say the county's economy would be severely damaged if controversial proposals by the UK Independence Party were put into practice.

UKIP have proposed a five-year period of no immigration.

But Dr Hazel Dawe, chairman of the Kent Green Party, says the suggestion could only be achieved if the UK left the EU and would invite 'reciprocal discrimination' against the 5.5 million British citizens living outside the UK.

Dr Dawe said: "Every year, hundreds of thousands of British citizens leave this country to live abroad. Every year, the UK allows in immigrants and migrant workers from all over the world.

"Doing this allows us to meet the wide variety of skills shortages."

"If we had a five-year block on immigration, many jobs would go unfilled in sectors where British people lack the skills to apply or lack the inclination to do some types of work. There would clearly be serious economic damage to many enterprises throughout Kent."

PROPERTY NEWS

Scrap stamp duty now for first-time buyers

EVEN as mortgage rates appear to have stabilised, the associated costs of buying a property continue to rise with stamp duty still presenting the biggest burden, says SmartNewHomes.com.

The average price of a first-time buyer home is currently breaking the £150,000 barrier – £25,000 above the first stamp duty threshold.

Around 60 per cent of first-time buyers pay stamp duty, and associated moving costs have risen to £11,000, according to new research by GE Money Home Lending, with nearly a third of the money going on stamp duty after the deposit, mortgage and legal fees.

David Bexon, managing director of SmartNewHomes.com, said: "Now more than ever, the Government needs to stop paying lip service to this group of buyers and take the decision to scrap stamp duty for first-time buyers."

"With these borrowers having to rely on large loans to get them onto the ladder and price growth rapidly exceeding the average wage rise, the plight of the first-time buyer is serious."

"First-time buyers need the confidence in this uncertain market to make the biggest purchase of their life. The Government needs to take action now."

Potential buyers flock to new homes show

AN EXHIBITION showcasing new homes across the county has been hailed a resounding success by organisers.

Hundreds of properties were on show at RPC Land and New Homes' inaugural exhibition in Maidstone.

Visitors were able to check out new developments and talk to experts on all aspects of buying a new property.

Buy-to-let specialists and financial services experts were also on hand along with an interior design company which was able to provide full-furnishing packages for those looking to get involved in the buy-to-let market.

Theresa Hales, regional new homes director of RPC, which has offices in Ashford, Chatham, Maidstone, Tonbridge and Dartford, said: "The feedback from the general public was excellent as the event provided a one-stop shop to collect information on properties throughout Kent and Sussex."

"The event was very enjoyable and definitely very informative for all those who attended and we hope to plan more of the same for the future."

BUY NOW, PAY LATER: Experts hope the deferred payment scheme will take the sting out of the newly-introduced HIPs, which many blame for a slowdown in the market

Wait until house sells before paying for HIP

BY SIMON ROBINSON

HIP Payment Services has joined forces with property services firm LMS and other leading Home Information Pack providers to offer a deferred payment scheme to consumers.

The scheme allows vendors to wait to pay for their Home Information Pack (HIP) until the sale of their property has gone through, while removing the burden of any payment or payment collection for agents.

HIP Payment Services has launched a number of 10-month deferred payment schemes which allows agents to offer their customers a buy now, pay later option.

It is hoped that it will take the sting out of the newly-introduced HIPs, which many are blaming for a slowdown in the housing market, and encourage more homeowners to put their property on the market.

Jeff Smith, chief executive at HIP Payment Services, said: "Whilst the cost of a HIP is minimal when compared with the overall costs incurred in selling a home, the majority of consumers have indicated that they would prefer to pay for their HIP at the end of the process, delaying any upfront costs.

"As a result, we have developed a unique deferred payment solution which can be offered by all agents and pack providers to their customers."

"The scheme allows consumers to buy now and pay later, paying for their HIP after their sale has gone through, enabling agents to meet the demand from their customers whilst removing the burden of chasing any necessary payment."

LMS, the UK's largest HIP provider, is currently offering the new system to its estate agency clients, and incorporating the deferred payment scheme as part of its overall offering.

Dominic Toller, director of marketing and new business at LMS, said: "We hope this will make life just a little bit easier for house sellers."

"From January 1, a HIP will be needed before a property can be marketed and so getting the HIP produced as soon as possible will be in the best interests of vendors and agents alike."

"The solution offered by HIP Payment Services allows us to take only the most essential information for payment from sellers, thereby keeping the process of ordering a HIP short and hassle free."

The seller either pays for their HIP when the property sells, after 10 months, if they change agent during the sale process or if the property is removed from the market.

MOTORS NEWS

Left hookers' cruise boosts hospice funds

A CONVOY of wings, fins, muscle and custom vans owned by American motor fans has raised more than £2,000 for a children's hospice.

Organised by the group Left Hookers, some 200 cars, vans and bikes came from all over Kent and as far away as Wales to start out, appropriately, from the retro American Riverside Diner in Ashford.

The cruise ended with a barbecue and entertainment at the Footprints hospice in Fordwich, near Canterbury.

Entries included classics such as a Chevrolet Bel-Air, several Cadillacs, a 'herd' of Ford Mustangs, a newly-imported Arizona police interceptor and the world's most powerful pick-up truck, a V10 Dodge Ram.

Damaged shopping levy too heavy, says Chevy

BRITS spend £70 billion on groceries a year, but £350 million worth is damaged en route from the shops due to poor packing and driving.

Chevrolet questioned 1,200 UK drivers for the launch of two concepts, a specially designed shopping seatbelt and a boot 'cross' – both designed to save groceries from damage.

Two thirds of drivers admitted not using their boot for the shopping, preferring the back seat, even though this increased the risk of breakages and spillage by a fifth.

Free tyre checks part of safety promotion

OCTOBER is Tyre Safety Month and STS Tyre Pros and Tyre & Exhaust Centres across Kent are offering free, no-obligation tyre checks.

Dean Marsh of STS Tyre Pros in Broad Oak Road, Canterbury, said tyre life can be drastically cut if they are not inflated to correct pressures.

This can affect braking, cornering and fuel consumption and the environment too.

Tread levels under 1.6mm can incur immediate fines of up to £2,500 and three penalty points.

ALLURING: The Alfa Romeo Spider is still a stunner when it comes to look and although still flawed, the latest incarnation is better made than its predecessor

'Drophead' gorgeous Spider weaves its web

FORTY years on from its original star turn in the classic movie 'The Graduate', the Alfa Spider is even more of a head turner.

The latest generation of the archetypal Italian roadster is also a far better ownership proposition – it is much better made and should be more reliable.

Along with 'drophead' gorgeous looks, there is an interior to match, with classy alloy touches, solid and well-arranged switchgear and beautiful leather seats.

Then again, this fiery Italian starlet is not without flaws: the new Spider suffers from the dreaded 'scuttle shake', a flexing of the bodywork caused by chopping the roof off the Brera coupe on which the Spider is based.

Don't worry, the car is perfectly safe, but it makes the car fidgety on poorly-maintained roads.

It is a shame, because the Spider is a good drive otherwise; the grip is sharp, the steering responsive and the 2.2-litre petrol version, as tested here, possesses a typically fabulous free revving Alfa engine and nice precise gearbox.

On the down side, this unit does not endow the Spider with sparkling pace and purists will also whinge about the front-wheel drive layout for this car and the other cooking version, the 2.4 diesel, though the 3.2 V6 Q4 four-wheel drive flagship should shut them up.

Back on the credit side though, Alfa has done well to provide so much stowage space: a decent boot, lockers behind the seats as well as space on top of these, seat back pockets, a glove compartment and a centre-locker-cum-cooler.

Hood up or down, the Spider also looks terrific, though the topless look edges it by virtue of the neat nacelles behind the seats after the fully-electric hood has slotted itself out of sight.

I also liked the car's top-down manners; a Perspex windshield sits behind the seat headrests, preserving the car's looks and doing a far better job of controlling wind buffeting than the intrusive mesh screens favoured by many rivals.

Sure, the Spider is flawed, but your heart goes out to it.

USED CAR ROUND-UP: OUR PICK FROM A KEY SECTOR

BEST-SELLING BUDGET MOTORS

CAR buyers of 10 years ago would be astonished by how far their money now goes at the budget end of the market. And we are not talking old technology here either. All three of our chosen bargains are bang up to date, drive well, have a reputation for reliability and come with a decent spec, making them perfect city cars, second cars or dependable runabouts for new drivers in the family. Despite their compact 'footprints' on the road, this modest trio are also relatively spacious and flexible inside.

FIAT PANDA

FIAT'S baby was European Car of the Year at launch in 2004. It proved a space-efficient interior does not have to result in a dull utilitarian exterior – the Panda could function as a van, but looks far more interesting. The distinctive five-door Italian is also fun to drive, cheap to insure and costs peanuts to run, yet features cutting-edge technology.

DAIHATSU CHARADE

TOYOTA'S subsidiary has shown it means business lately, with some highly-proficient budget models. The three and five-door Charade city car is one of them. It features the latest in a series of powerful yet economical three-cylinder Daihatsu engines. Ally that with bags of room, a good ride and a reputation for bulletproof reliability and you have the perfect runabout.

KOREA'S Kia has become one of the fastest-growing car brands in the UK. The five-door Picanto is the epitome of this rapid revolution, with its cheeky looks and generous spec; even the entry-level GS comes with steering wheel adjustment, remote central locking, ABS, front electric windows, split folding seats and a radio/CD player.

Europe's busiest and most successful ferry port, we handle 15 million passengers, 3 million tourist vehicles and 2 million freight vehicles a year.

With these figures set to increase, we are investing around £300m in a new ferry terminal and associated infrastructure including a marina, property development and traffic regulation. With the momentum already building there's never been a more exciting time to join our team. You'll be heavily involved in all aspects of construction, from feasibility, design and detailing through to Project Management for new works and the maintenance of existing installations. Our forward workload is hugely varied, so you'll be working not only on maritime-related projects, but also civil engineering and building schemes. To make an impact, you'll need to be a widely experienced Civil Engineer (Chartered or Incorporated) or a graduate with some experience, working towards corporate membership of the Institution of Civil Engineers. You'll be given full training and support to gain this and when achieved, this will open up a clearly defined career path. A background in project management and delivery will prove invaluable, as will experience within a port or maritime environment. SHOP 'TIL YOU DROP: Despite interest rate rises and uncertain financial markets, consumer spending is above average but is set to slow, says the CBI

We continue to be a nation of shoppers

HIGH street spending across the South East has continued to grow during September – despite five interest rate rises in a year.

The findings come in the CBI retail survey, which reveals the upturn despite the recent crisis of confidence in the financial markets.

But it was not good news for booksellers after Harry Potter's summer magic and bumper sales of JK Rowling's final installment in the series died off to leave them facing a dramatic decrease in sales, as booksellers and stationers recorded the weakest sales balance – the difference between the percentage of retailers reporting an increase and those reporting a decrease – in the 23-year history of the survey (down 77 per cent).

■ BY ED HILL

Covering more than 20,000 outlets and 40 per cent of retail jobs, the CBI Distributive Trades Survey saw the trend for slower growth in retail sales seen since May continue.

Director of CBI South East Malcolm Hyde said: "Overall, retailers will be relieved to see that the troubles on the financial markets didn't have a serious impact on consumer spending in September. However, four months of modest spending growth prove that higher interest rates are continuing to have an effect.

"Some retailers are faring worse than others and the fierce competition makes pricing critical. Sales of big ticket items such as large electrical and consumer durables, which tend to be linked to the housing market, have been hit.

"Others selling furnishings and DIY have done better, which suggests people are improving where they live rather than moving house.

"The Bank of England needs to keep an eye on future confidence, which risks being dented further as a result of increased uncertainty about the economic outlook into 2008."

Thirty-seven per cent of retailers reported that sales had risen on a year ago, against 25 per cent that said they were down. The resulting balance of plus 12 per cent falls short of pre-financial turmoil expectations (plus 17 per cent) and was the lowest balance this year.

This sales growth nevertheless remains above the average rate recorded during the second half of 2006. Retailers also thought sales were around average for the time of year and expect the more moderate growth in sales to be sustained into October.

Tanners looking for new players

THE handball season is already under-way and the Ashford Tanners are looking for new players over 16 to join them.

The club has not been active in the national leagues in recent years, but it has produced GB players in the past and has hosted the British Cup finals.

They intend to play friendlies and enter the national second division for the second half of the season.

A number of schools are now playing handball in Kent and soon the Norton Knatchbull School in Ashford is to join them. They hope to introduce a Kent Schools tournament after Easter.

Bursary boost for young talent

RISING sports stars in the Tenterden area have the chance to gain help in their chosen sport, and possibly progress to the London 2012 Olympics, thanks to a new sports bursary award.

Tenterden Leisure Centre Trust announced the introduction of its first Sports Bursary award last week.

The new award is designed to encourage and support one or more potential sports stars aged between 11-25, who are considered by their coach or sports association to have the potential to represent their country.

The bursary can help the athletes with additional training, coaching, travel and costs of competing and it will also include access to Tenterden Leisure Centre's sporting and fitness facilities.

If you would like to apply, visit the Tenterden Leisure Centre website on www.tenterdenleisure.com to download an application form and information on the bursary scheme.

Alternatively, you can contact the centre on 01580 765987 for further details.

ROAD TO VICTORY: Tenterden's Tim Reeves, along with passenger Patrick Farrance, claimed his third World Sidecar title in a row and won his first-ever British Championship

Reeves reflecting on his perfect hat-trick

NEWLY-CROWNED British and World Sidecar champion Tim Reeves, rounded off his season by appearing in the annual Festival of Sidecars at Mallory Park last weekend.

Racing fans had the chance to see their heroes compete in two special races involving the best sidecar riders in the world.

On the event, Reeves said: "The Mallory Park festival is all about the fans really. They get the chance to come and talk to us and see us in action in a fun race at the end of the weekend which is nice to be involved in."

The Tenterden racer has had his most successful season in sidecar racing, claiming a third world title in a row with a race to spare in Croatia and winning the British Championship for the first time in his career at Brands Hatch.

Reeves and partner Patrick Farrance, battled through the pain to claim the British title by winning both races at the Kent circuit after crashing heavily in qualifying.

Reeves said: "We went out in qualifying and a few laps in we equalled the lap record; next lap we went into Graham Hill bend exactly the same as every other lap and it just broke away and we went straight upside down with no warning."

Licence

Reeves added: "I am over the moon winning this title. I have missed out on this championship by a couple of points twice over the years, so it has always been eluding me."

"It has rounded off a perfect season winning the hat-trick – the World, British and Team Championships and it was a great feeling to win in front of my home crowd, friends and family at Brands Hatch."

The new sidecar champion has another reason to celebrate, as last week he finally got his motorcycle licence.

Despite being a multiple champion in sidecars for the past five years, Reeves ironically has never had a full motorcycle licence.

He decided to remedy this so he could ride on the roads with his partner Paula and passed his test at the Mid Kent Motorcycle Training Centre in Aylesford.

He said: "It's funny really that I have been racing bikes for years and never got round to passing my bike test, but I just got the urge to do it and passed."

"It is fantastic that I have finally got my license and I will be off to France on the bike for a few days with Paula to celebrate."

However, Reeves along with Patrick Farrance, will be back on track for the Sidecar Burn-up at Lydden Hill on October 14, where he will be looking to lift another trophy.

Tough season gets off to a winning start for Staff

GOOD TO GO: Jamie Staff (far right) won a gold medal at the British Championship last week

OLYMPIC track cyclist Jamie Staff has had a successful start to the new season, adding to his medal collection in the British Track cycling championships at Manchester, which ended on Saturday.

The Ashford-born cyclist blew away 40 hopeful riders to win the gold medal in the one-kilometre trial, beating Ed Clancy by half a second.

He won despite recording a time a second-and-a-half slower than his bronze medal winning performance in the World Championships.

The reigning Commonwealth champion believed he had a good chance of winning the team sprint which took place on Saturday.

CYCLING

He was the lead man in a team with Great Britain Olympic riders Chris Hoy and Jason Queally, but they failed to qualify for the finals.

The former Folkestone flyer BMX rider, who still competes in national and international competitions, will now be concentrating on track cycling as the BMX season is over and believes this year will be tough.

"There are many young riders coming through and stirring the selection process up which is keeping the older riders like myself on our toes.

"We have just come back from training in Majorca for a week and this is only my second time on the track since then."

"The road and gym work is going well and for where I am in the season, I am very happy."

Staff hopes to compete in the World Championships in Sydney next year, as well as the Beijing Olympics.

He will be hoping to reproduce the kind of form that saw him claim the gold medal in Melbourne last year and finally win an Olympic medal, a dream which still eludes him.

Walker to focus on defensive frailties

FOOTBALL

BY TOM HOWARD

CLIVE Walker's Ashford Town will be hoping to repeat the form that saw a 5-2 victory against Cray Wanderers when they come up against bottom of the league Molesey.

Town lost their last game and morale is a bit low for the club who are still in search of their first home win this season.

After the midweek defeat to Burgess Hill Town, Walker blamed the result on poor defensive errors which cost his side the game.

He said: "All three goals came from our mistakes, defensively we are letting in too many goals. I am disappointed to lose, because winning games boosts confidence and morale."

"We seem to be struggling at home this year, so a win would have helped us. When we travel something is different – I can't put my finger on it."

"However, I am pleased with the performances of the young players, especially Jimmy Bottle who has come from the reserves."

Ashford have every chance of bouncing back from last week's defeat when they take on Molesey on Saturday.

The Surrey side lost 3-1 to Leighton Town in the FA Trophy on Saturday and are three points adrift at the bottom of Ryman Division One South, with a single point from their eight games so far. The Moles have lost their last seven league matches, conceding an average of more than three goals a game.

They finished 15th in the division last season and Ashford will have good memories of visiting Walton Road after completing the double there with a 2-1 win in April.

A much needed win for Walker's men could see the Nuts and Bolts rise to eighth in the league.

Ashford's impressive start continues

UNDEFEATED: Despite Sam Handley's sending off, Ashford managed to hold on for a 2-1 win

NEWLY promoted Ashford Hockey continue to impress by maintaining their 100 per cent start to the season with a victory over Eastbourne.

Ashford opened the scoring just five minutes into the game, when a short corner found the net after a powerful strike from Matt Coppin.

Eastbourne were quick to reply and equalised minutes later.

Shortly before half-time, Ashford took the lead when a short corner rebound was picked up by Chris Pearce and his flick beat the Eastbourne goalkeeper.

In the second half, Eastbourne started brightly keeping the ball in the Ashford half and were constantly looking for a breakthrough.

The pressure got too much for Sam Handley, with two rash tackles getting him sent off and saw Eastbourne awarded a penalty stroke for the foul in the area.

However, luck was on Ashford's side as their goalkeeper pulled off a save to keep his side in the lead.

Ashford's defence stood firm and defended well to keep a strong Eastbourne side from scoring a late winner.

They weathered the storm for 15 minutes to secure their second victory and now move to the top of the Kent and Sussex Regional League.

Captain Chris Smith said: "I am very pleased with the result. This side beat us last year so we have improved significantly to be able to beat them."

"I think this season we have a real chance to win the league."

Ashford Hockey will hope to keep their unbeaten run going when they travel to Sutton Valance next week, who are currently sixth in the league.

SPORT IN BRIEF

Can Wraight Bros stop the Locomotive express?

THE Ashford Five-a-Side Super League will be back in action on Wednesday with a host of fixtures.

Top of the league Locomotive could lose their 100 per cent start to the season when they face unbeaten side, The Wraight Brothers. Supershots will be hoping to move out of the bottom half of the league if they win against Wye Monarchs.

Inter United will be looking to continue their unbeaten run when they face Hamstreet, who have recorded just one win so far.

Ladies back on league duty with indoor bowls

AFTER last week's draw with the Kent County Senior Team, Ashford Indoor Bowls have another week packed full of fixtures.

Today, the ladies team will face Mote Park in their second match of the season and on Thursday the mixed team will play Faversham for their opening game this term.

On Saturday, the ladies will be in action again when they play Oyster and the next round of the Classic Trophy Tournament will take place on Sunday.

Ashford looking for first home win in FA Trophy

AFTER being knocked out of the Ryman League Cup against Burgess Hill Town last week, Clive Walker's men will be hoping to keep their cup dreams alive when they face Leyton in the FA Trophy.

Walker's men will have to resolve their defensive problems if they want to record their first home win of the season.

Leyton's form has dipped and they find themselves bottom of the Ryman Premier League after two consecutive defeats.

Tristan hopes to be back racing with brother Tim

SIDECAR racer Tristan Reeves, brother of British and World Champion Tim Reeves, is hoping to get the chance to ride with his brother again next season after quitting the sport two years ago.

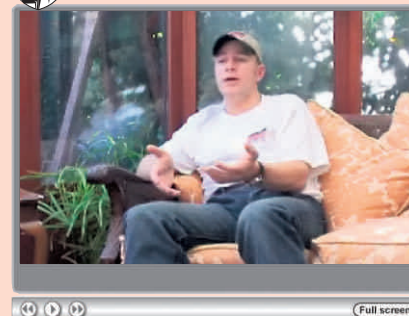

Reeves said: "I don't know what the future holds. I would like to ride with my brother again, but he is settled with Patrick Farrance so that could be a long shot."

"I hope I will still get the odd race or two filling in for someone next season."
